Meet the faculty:

Dr. Amruta Dash (Perio)
Workshop Faculty

Dr Amruta Dash specializes in Periodontology and Implantology. She has graduated with the bachelor's degree in dental surgery from Meenakshi Ammal dental college and completed her post-graduation in periodontology and implantology from the reputed Sri Ramachandra dental college, Chennai. She is also a member of the European Federation of Periodontology and the Indian Society of Periodontology. She has also received her fellowship degree in oral implantology (FICOI) from the international congress of oral implantology (USA). She is one of the very few implantologists to have received the Diplomate from the ICOI(USA). She keeps updating her knowledge and skills, in the field of implant and laser dentistry and has also attended various courses held by the ICOI at Singapore and by the European federation held in London. She believes that restoring periodontal health requires a perfect amalgamation of conventional perio practice and incorporation of recent advancements like dental implants and laser dentistry.
